Community is important

Studies show that the most decisive factor for humans thrive is social integration. It is important for us to feel integrated with the people around us – both those who we interact most with and those we meet during our day.

Local communities can help create and ensure presence and interaction with other people. When we get together over a common interest, the possibility of social relationships arises, which is important for our well-being.

We aim to strengthen your well-being in our region, which is why we have created this small flyer. There are more associations out there, but the ones mentioned here all have an English representative in their community, who is just waiting for you to reach out.

Fællesskab er vigtigt

Studier viser, at den mest afgørende faktor for om vi mennesker trives er social integration. Det er vigtigt for os, at vi føler os integreret med menneskene omkring os – både de nære og dem, vi møder i løbet af vores dag.

Lokale fællesskaber kan være med til at skabe og sikre nærvær og samvær med andre mennesker. Når vi mødes om noget, som vi har en fælles interesse i, så opstår muligheden for, at vores sociale relationer kan blomstre, hvilket har betydning for vores trivsel.

Vi ønsker, at styrke jeres trivsel i vores region, hvorfor vi har lavet udarbejdet en lille flyer over en række lokale fællesskaber, som findes i jeres kommune. Samtlige foreninger har en engelsk repræsentant tilgængelig, som blot venter på at tage imod jer.
